more inspiration, more space, more options PLURIS

PRACTI Project Group

Dorota Nowak – a student of Architecture and Town-planning department at WST in Katowice. She has been designing applied art for several years. Her interests are: graphic art, photography and modern design. Dorota has added to the team youthful imaginativeness and original ideas on everyday use appliances.

Piotr Bugaj – a Product Manager at FURNIKO, responsible for design and production technology for many years. In pursuit of technological perfection he does not accept any compromises. He knows how to take care of the smallest detail and therefore improve and optimize the whole structure. In other words the final product must be perfect.

Andrzej Nowak – an interior designer of commercial spaces with a vast experience. He has designed hundreds of office interiors. He knows what is crucial and necessary to create a perfect office – ergonomic, functional and fitted to clients' needs. His knowledge is not only theory but first of all practical experience.

They have been united by their common passion and interests. After several meetings and many long hours over a drawing board, they came with an idea for a different look at office furniture. From the very beginning they knew that their product must be unique in every way, perfectly designed but also multifunctional, universal and innovative. The result of this hard and creative work went beyond expectations – this is how PLURIS was born.

PLURIS means more...

The name of the system is not random. PLURIS means more, numerous, in excess and that expresses the idea which inspired its creators. PLURIS was to be unique in every way, it was to provide a countless number of options without any compromises.

More options – one system and 6 alternative frames, for the first time a furniture system gives such freedom of choice.

More ways of applying – PLURIS is a universal system. Thanks to a diversity of elements it enables us to furnish open space offices as well as conference rooms, executive offices, reception areas and classic office spaces.

More functionality – innovative solutions make working easier. For example a cable distribution system in under-desk cabinets, which not only helps to put cables in order but also gives a swift access to all the media.

More elements – PLURIS is a real record-breaker. The desks themselves, in respect of size and construction, give almost 500 units! As for image cabinets, if we take into consideration different types of fronts we come up with a number that is hard to imagine. There are no limits, we have the comfort of choice and freedom of creation.

Individual image

Every company, every organization is unique and should emphasize its originality so that it can compete better on the more and more demanding market. Why not to use furniture to achieve such a goal? Is it possible for an office furniture system to create an image?

Now it is! PLURIS provides us with such a possibility. Cabinets in the PLURIS system represent another dimension in the world of furniture. Instead of a common furniture unit with utility features only, a cabinet became an element that shapes image of an office. Possibilities are just countless. At our disposal we have different options of fronts, from plain chipboard decors to painted lakobel glass and innovative solutions involving glass overprinted with graphic or pictures. An office doesn't need to be dull anymore!

Colors inspired by nature

Colors have magical power, they can affect our mood. As a pinch of spice properly chosen can extract flavor of a dish, colors can help create harmonious and original interior. Specially for the PLURIS system we have introduced three new, distinct colors: lime green, chili red and aubergine purple. New colors are a perfect match with decors such as nut or cherry.

Lime green makes us feel relaxed, it lightens an office with Mediterranean sunrays. Intense and deep chili red makes us feel energized and inspires us to creative work. Powerful aubergine purple emphasizes elegance and prestige, it stimulates our senses and spurs our imagination and creativity.
